Failure to Face Up to Assessment Job Could Cost County $50,000

This is a word of warning to the people of Hempstead county.

The property reassessment program apparently is being made an issue in the local election campaigns — which is an unfair and reckless action.

It is unfair, because the property reassessment program is mandatory under state law.

It is reckless, because if the local voters are taken in by this sort of campaigning your local governments — county, city, and school districts — are going to wake up a few months from now and find their state-aid funds slashed by a total of $50,000!

If some school districts are wondering how they can make present revenues cover a nine-month term they had better brace themselves for the still tougher job of trying to operate six months on reduced state-aid.

Here is our situation in state law.

Act 153 of 1955, and its amending act, 304 of 1957, require the State Assessment Co-ordination Department to set up a 3 per cent sampling of local assessments in all the counties. Local government has been given until December 15 this year to bring its ratio of assessments to market value, up to 18 per cent.

Where local government fails to show 18 per cent its share of state-aid will be cut to the same extent it is short of that figure.

As of August 1 Hempstead county's assessment ratio was officially declared to be 16.71 per cent of market value — which is 1.29 short. This means we face a reduction of 7.2% (1.29 divided by 18) in our state-aid unless we can improve our position before December 15.

How much does state-aid mean to county and city and all the local school districts? Here are the figures for 1957:

County road turn-back	$ 89,000
County General Fund turn-back	36,000
Hope General Fund turn-back	28,000
Total school district aid	542,203

GRAND TOTAL

Applying a 7.2 per cent cut to the $695,203 state-aid means we face an annual loss of $50,054!

You will hear it argued that this loss is only a remote possibility. This is not true. You owe it to your home community to learn the facts before you vote on August 12. Here are two facts you should weigh carefully:

1. The legislative enactment sets December 15 as the day of reckoning — and no one has the power to change this. Reduction in state-aid takes place automatically thereafter.

2. Even if the 1959 legislature is confronted with an emergency plea to get defaulting counties "off the hook" how much chance have small, slightly-populated counties, to escape the penalty when big cities like Little Rock and Fort Smith have met and passed the 18% mark?

Pulaski county (Little Rock) has an official figure of 19.26.

Sebastian county (Fort Smith) shows 19.78.

And neighboring Columbia county (Magnolia) has 19.35.

We are not alone in our trouble, of course. Howard county is just about where we are, with 16.72. So is La Fayette, 16.01. And Nevada's total is 14.38.

But each county has to meet this problem alone.

Stalwart public officials who recognize their duty, and then go out and perform it regardless of political risk, deserve your confidence and vote. Remember this on August 12.

Appeals Court Takes Up School Integration Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An appeal challenging a 2½-year postponement of racial integration at Little Rock Central High School was taken under advisement today by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The judges gave no indication of when they might hand down a ruling in the case which will have a major effect on the speed of public school integration in the South.

Attorneys for the school board accused the government of letting the school board down in enforcement of integration in arguments before a tense, jammed court room.

Attorneys for the National Assn. of the Advancement of Colored People charge the board with evading its duties and with laxity in student discipline.

Board Atty. A. F. House of Little Rock, told the judges the U.S. attorney general's decision not to prosecute leaders of a mob at the school only encouraged the anti-integrationists.

House told the court no board in the South could enforce integration by itself.

Thurgood Marshall, general counsel for the NAACP said he doubted the board would do anything to ease integration tension in the 2½-year cooling off period. It was granted by a U.S. District Court.

A crowd of 120 persons jammed a small courtroom as all seven judges of the appellate court — instead of the usual three — met in special session to hear the integration delay. The crowd was almost evenly divided between Negro and white.

House, speaking quickly and wearing a rumpled white summer suit, said the first "great shock" to the board came when Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus declared the government had no power to punish people who interfered with integration.

"Who can imagine what that did in a place where the storm was already raging," House said.

The second shock was the attorney general's announcement there would be no prosecution of persons, in the mob the opening day of school last fall, he said.

Marshall declared integration in any community is not easy and the delay granted by Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., would not help at Little Rock.

The NAACP attorney said the importance of the Little Rock situation is this:

"The governor can do whatever he wants to do. The school board can ignore its rights and duties, but a federal court cannot deny an individual his constitutional rights because of threats of violence."

But in House's words, the phrase used by the U. S. Supreme Court in school integration — "all deliberate speed" — is flexible and should be translated into existing conditions.

House charged that Marshall was oversimplifying the conditions at the Arkansas capital.

The appeals court is not expected to hand down a decision in the case today. But they are expected to return a decision before school opens in the fall.

Five of the judges were seated at the bench. The other two were seated directly behind the chief justice, Archibald R. Gardner, 90, of Huron, S.D.

Eight students finished last term at Central High School after a tense year of mixed attendance under a federal court-approved plan.

State Crops Need Hot, Dry Weather

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas farmers need the kind of weather (hot crops that city dwellers abhor: hot and dry).

Miles McPeck, Department of Agriculture statistician, today said the state's cotton has been adding vegetative growth at the expense of bolting. This condition follows the moist, cloudy weather which has prevailed since July.

Soybeans show good progress especially in well-drained fields, McPeck said, but like cotton could use some hot dry days to develop.

The moist climatic conditions have upped the infestation of insects of all types and frequent showers wash away insecticides.

U. S. Rushes Work for UN Summit Meet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States rushed work today on Mideast proposals for a United Nations summit conference while awaiting word from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as to whether he will attend.

A new Khrushchev message to President Eisenhower was expected momentarily after the Soviet Premier's return to Moscow Sunday night from a surprise meeting with Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung in Peking.

His secret trip, announced as he flew home, caught Western officials by surprise. They speculated that his talks with Mao could have a vital effect on Khrushchev's summit conference policies from here on.

A communique issued by the two Communist chieftains threw little light on the nature of any major decisions reached.

While demanding for a summit meeting to deal with Middle East problems, it gave no hint as to which, if either, of two alternatives Khrushchev would accept.

Success of Atlas Rocket Is Hailed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Rocket experts today hailed the first completely successful launching of a fully powered Atlas as a significant step in the nation's race to develop an operational intercontinental ballistic missile.

B. G. McNabb, operations manager for the missile's development, Convair Astronautics, said progress in the ICBM program was advanced 6 to 12 months by Saturday's brilliant launching.

Every test objective was accomplished, McNabb said, as the 85-foot Atlas streaked over the Atlantic at speeds of 15,000 miles an hour for some 2,500 miles.

"It was the first successful performance of a three-engine Atlas, which has enough power to go the full 6,000-mile intercontinental range."

On July 19 the first fully powered Atlas — propelled by twin booster rockets and a sustainer engine — burst apart in a violent explosion 45 seconds after launching.

In eight tests prior to that time only two engines were used in limited range shots. The Atlas test flight program began at the cape 13 months ago.

Indications were that Saturday's shot was just about perfect. The missile's tactical type nose cone, which would house a hydrogen warhead under wartime conditions, hit the bull's-eye — a predetermined impact area in the south Atlantic.

The first full-range attempt is expected to be made within the next two months.

Segregation Laws in South Total 196

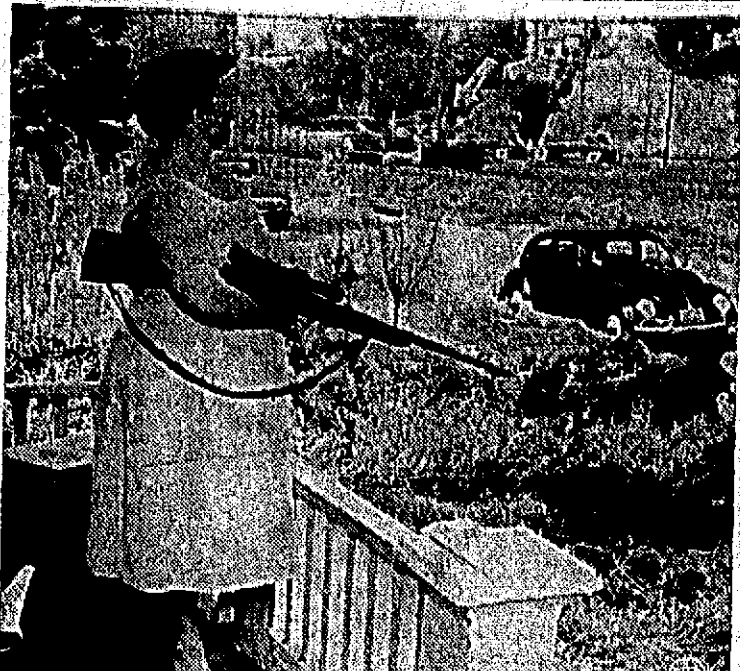

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — In a recap of recent legislation, the Southern School News said today 190 school segregation laws have been passed by Southern states since 1954.

Five states, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, passed 41 segregation laws between them this year. All means maintain a system of segregation of various types before.

Six other states have passed anti-integration laws since the Supreme Court's integration ruling in 1954. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

The publication said 777 Southern school districts have been de-segregated and 2,222 districts in Southern and border states remain segregated.

Vetoes Bill for Funds for U. S. Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill carrying 64 billion dollars for 17 federal agencies. He said over 50 million dollars for the Civil Service retirement fund was not needed.

In returning the bill to Congress Eisenhower said he was doing so "because of my strong conviction that Congress should reconsider its action appropriating over half a billion dollars not presently needed in the civil service retirement and disability fund."

"There is no sound justification whatever for adding unnecessarily over half a billion dollars to a deficit which may reach 12 billion dollars this fiscal year."

It was Eisenhower's first veto of an appropriations bill since he took office in 1953.

About five billion dollars of the $6,544,109,900 in bills are earmarked for the Veterans Administration. The measure is known as the Independent Offices Bill.

Market Goes to New High Territory

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drove into new high territory for 1958 today, paced by aluminum, copper and steel shares.

In late afternoon, key stocks were up fractions to about three points.

The market was higher from the start and improved steadily. Trading was estimated at 3,800,000 for the day, compared with Friday's 3,380,000 shares. Turnover was brisk throughout.

Ahead two to three points were Reynolds Metals, Kaiser Aluminum, Alcan, and Du Pont.

Up almost two were American Telephone & Telegraph, Seaboard Airline Railroad, Kennecott, Amcan, Chrysler and International Nickel.

U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Goodyear, Goodrich, Allied Chemical and Gulf Oil rose around a point.

Down fractions to a point were Pfizer, Ford and American Can. U.S. government bonds were steady to a little lower.

Khrushchev, China's Mao in Secret Talks

By ROY ESSOVAN

MOSCOW (AP) — There were growing indications in Moscow today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will object to Nationalist China's taking part in any U.N. Security Council summit conference on the Middle East.

Many Western diplomats here were convinced that Nationalist China — a permanent member of the Security Council — was a top subject between Khrushchev and Chinese Communist chief Mao Tse-tung in their secret talks at Peking over the weekend.

If there is any objection by the Soviet leader to Nationalist China it may come in his reply to the latest summit letters from the Western Big Three. Khrushchev's reply has been delayed by his trip to Peking and may be delayed even further by consultations in the Kremlin necessitated by his talks with Mao.

The U. S., British and French embassies here reported at mid-afternoon that there had been no sign of Khrushchev's reply.

Some sources raised the possibility that the Kremlin's new line on a summit conference may be voiced first by Arkady Sobolev, Russia's delegate to the U.N., in U.N. discussions on the composition, time and place of a summit meeting.

These sources pointed out that President Eisenhower's letter of Aug. 1 did not necessarily call for a reply from Khrushchev. They pointed out that Eisenhower said he was instructing the U.S. delegation in the Security Council to seek a special meeting on or about Aug. 12 and expressed the hope Khrushchev would do likewise.

Nationalist China's Chiang Kai-shek is Mao's sworn enemy and Moscow has been increasingly repulsive in the past several months to Peking's desires.

"The Soviet press and radio so far has not come out with any flat rejection of Chiang's participation in any summit talks. But the groundwork was being laid."

There was no indication here, on the other hand, that Khrushchev would demand that Red China attend the sessions. There was no indication of it either in the Khrushchev-Mao communique issued after the talks in Peking.

Khrushchev and Mao presumably met Sunday.

Union Official Made Into a Human Torch

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Teamsters Union official who testified last fall before Senate Rackeets investigators was dumped on a hospital lawn today with burns over 85 per cent of his body.

Police said the man, Frank Kierdorf, 50, Teamsters business agent in Flint, Mich., may have been a victim of torture — made a human torch.

Nurses said his partly burned shoes smelled of gasoline when he staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 1 a. m. today. Twelve hours later his condition was reported very critical.

Kierdorf is the nephew of another Teamsters Union official, Herman Kierdorf, who testified last week at the Senate probe into reported dumps of racketeers and unions in the Detroit laundry business.

Frank Kierdorf was so badly burned that identification, finally made through fingerprints, took several hours. Burns had blistered his legs, chest, face and arms.

He was clad only in a bathrobe which attendants said had been placed on him after he was burned. His hair was burned off. A car sped away from the hospital entrance as Kierdorf reeled to the entrance.

Kierdorf, delicious and in severe shock, refused to give his identity, saying only "John Doe of Washington," or "I don't remember."

But an Oakland County sheriff's detective, Donald Edwards, said several times he mumbled, "No, no you don't. Don't do it. John," indicating he may have been set afire deliberately.

Both Frank and Herman Kierdorf invoked the Fifth Amendment in their testimony before the Senate committee.

Frank took the Fifth Amendment more than 40 times last Nov. 5 as senators sought to link him with George Kamenow, Detroit representative of labor relations consultant Nathan W. Shefferman.

Frank refused to answer questions as to whether he threatened Flint auto dealers with picketing if they failed to hire Kamenow. He also refused to say whether he was given his job as business agent after serving a term for armed robbery.

His uncle, Herman, was questioned last week when the committee resumed the Detroit phase of its inquiry.

Immediately after his testimony, Herman announced that he had resigned as business agent for the Teamsters Joint Council No. 43 in Detroit.

Herman was described as an aide to Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, who is scheduled to be called before the committee Tuesday in Washington.

Neither Hoffa nor other Teamsters leaders were called.

U. S. Swells Forces Now in Lebanon

By EDWIN A. SHANKE

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States swelled its armed forces in Lebanon to more than 15,000 men over the weekend.

The Middle East battleground enjoyed a respite from major shooting but the politicians began bickering over who should represent Lebanon at a summit conference.

Twenty-two hundred American soldiers landed in Beirut Sunday and 75 tanks and 220 other vehicles awaited unloading.

Most of the new arrivals were men of a tank battalion, plus engineers, radiomen, a medical unit and food inspectors.

There were indications that more American troops and equipment were on the way although the Lebanese rebellion has settled into an uneasy unofficial truce since the election of Gen. Fuad Shuhab as president. In the only explanation of the U. S. reinforcement, Adm. James L. Holloway, the American commander in this area, said they were part of the total originally ordered to Lebanon last month and had not been diverted.

Skeleton of Child-Sized Man Found in Italy, May Prove We Didn't Descend From Apes

GROSSETO, Italy (AP) — The skeleton of a child-sized man, found 800 feet down in an Italian soft coal mine, may prove man didn't descend from apes, according to Swiss scientist Dr. Johannes Hurel of the Basel Museum of Natural History.

The skeleton, found after two years of digging, pushes the beginnings of man back to at least 11 million years ago, he said.

That would mean, he explained, that man descended in the same period as the apes — or even before them — perhaps from some common ancestor which resembled neither.

The previous oldest known man was Australopithecus, the so-called southern ape, found in South Africa. He dates back only half a million to a million years, and the Java and Peking men go back only about 300,000 years.

Two young miners, Enzo Bocca, 22, and Angelo Giardini, 20, found the nearly complete skeleton last week. The bones jutted from a coal strata in the Bachelio mine, located 15 miles northeast of Grosseto.

There scattered bones of Orso-pithecus, the now pre-man, were found two years ago by a team headed by Dr. Hurel and Dr. Heinrich de Terra of New York's Columbia University. The name means mountain ape in Greek.

Dr. Hurel said the new discovery apparently includes the arms and legs, spine, ribs and pelvis of a pre-man, about four feet tall. There was no skull, but digging is continuing along the vein in the hope that the skull will turn up.

Dr. Hurel said the coal strata where the skeleton was found is a deposit at least 11 million years old.

Two years ago, in his studies at the mine, Dr. de Terra said the ably spent much of their time coordinating Communist policy for the big-power meeting, now expected to be held by the U.N. Security Council in about two weeks at New York or Geneva.

But the joint communiqué made no demand for a seat for the Red Chinese at the same table with the Western leaders. This would present complications for the West—and delay the talks if not to wreck them altogether. The United States does not recognize Red China and has been the chief force keeping President Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime in China's permanent Security Council seat.

SHADOW PRESIDENTS—The storm of criticism directed against Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower, because of Adams' acceptance of gifts from Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine, has placed this comparatively new government post in the limelight. The official title—"Assistant to the President"—was created by Harry S. Truman when he bestowed it on Dr. John R. Steelman. Steelman, however, was not the White House "chief of staff" in the sense that Adams is. But the evolution of the office can be traced to other presidents in this century who had advisors with great influence in the White House.

William McKinley depended heavily on Cleveland financier Mark Hanna for political guidance. The first presidential advisor to rise to an "indispensable man" status comparable to Adams was Col. Edward M. House. "He is my second personality. He is my independent self," Woodrow Wilson said of him. House was special diplomatic representative for Wilson during World War I peace negotiations. The object of much criticism was Franklin D. Roosevelt's unofficial assistant president, Harry Hopkins, who served in numerous posts under Roosevelt.

ENGINEERED FOR SAFETY — Farm people lose more time from injuries than any other working group. In Ohio, accidental deaths on the farm rank third, led only by the construction and mining industries. Because accidents involving tractors stand high on the list, 1,800 women of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation conducted a survey asking farmers' suggestions for additional safety features on these machines. Some 15,000 farmers were interviewed in 53 Ohio counties. Drawing above incorporates a few of their suggestions in a model safety-first tractor. Other ideas include an "upset warning" device, tow cables, springs and a lower top speed.

Mrs. McKenzie Entertains

Mrs. H. H. McKenzie entertained with an informal afternoon party at her home on Wednesday honoring Miss Martha Ligon whose marriage to Ray Roland Culp was an event of August 3 at the First Methodist Church in Prescott.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. J. H. Langley. Matching arrangements of pink lilies and carnations leaves were placed on the deck and mantel. A brides slipper filled with sweet heart roses adorned the coffee table and an arrangement of summer blossoms decorated the same room.

The hostess presented the honoree with a gift of silver and a white carnation corsage that complimented her frock of pink cotton.

The serving table was covered with a white cloth and the central decor was white daisies in a silver bowl centered with a cupid holding a bridal nosegay from which extended satin streamers to silver candle holders, holding burning white tapers. At one end of the table a silver tray held daisies frozen in a block of ice and recessed in the center for the cold drinks served by Miss Betty Ligon and Miss Judy Gilbert. Mrs. Edward Bryson assisted in courtesies.

There were 85 guests and included Mrs. Don Roberts of Arkansas.

Fair Accident Leaves One Dead

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A souped-up merry-go-round called the "Comet" hurled two riders into a crowd at the Orange County Fair Sunday night.

One, Francis Kearney, 18, Monticello, N.Y., died about three hours later at the Middletown Sanitarium.

The other, George Van Aken, 30, Middletown, suffered a possible fractured spine. He was reported in critical condition today at the sanitarium.

The Comet has 10 cars suspended from cables which rotate around a pole. State police said the cars were whirling at about 35 miles an hour when a cable attached to the Kearney-Van Aken car snapped.

The two riders hit a concrete sidewalk at least 30 feet away and struck four persons, who suffered shock and bruises.

Kierdorf Was Convicted of Armed Robbery

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — In 1943, Frank Kierdorf held up a coal company in Detroit. He was arrested, convicted of armed robbery and sentenced to Southern Michigan Prison.

Two and a half years later he was paroled. Within a year he went to work for the Teamsters' Union. The union will not say what his first duties were.

From then until today when he staggered into a Pontiac hospital with burns over 85 per cent of his body, Frank Kierdorf was in the news only for one brief week.

Otherwise he has lived in obscurity—at least for the record.

His week under the glare of publicity came last November when he appeared before the Senate Rackets Committee. His testimony was limited to pleading the Fifth Amendment more than 40 times. He refused to acknowledge an affidavit which committee investigators said he had signed, and when pressed refused to say he even could see the document.

At the office of Teamsters Local 232 which he served as business agent, a brisk young woman answered all queries Monday with: "I can give no information." Nor was anyone else connected with the union saying much.

Owen Brennan, a Teamster vice president and chief aide of Teamster President James R. Hoffa, called Kierdorf "a good guy. We certainly didn't know of any trouble that would lead to anything like this."

Kierdorf lived quietly here in Flint. His immediate neighbors declined to discuss him with reporters. No one was at his home. It was generally understood that Mrs. Kierdorf was in Florida.

Kierdorf has been with the Flint local, only branch of the Teamsters, in this manufacturing center, for about eight years. But no one knows just how long—or they don't want to say.

Accused of Selling Out Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank H. Kierdorf, possible torture burning victim in Michigan, was accused of selling out his own Teamsters Union members when he was before the Senate Rackets Investigating committee last fall.

But the senators got no information of consequence out of the 56-year-old then business manager of Teamsters Local 332 of Flint, Mich. He kept ducking behind the Fifth Amendment.

Kierdorf's name has popped in and out of the senate committee's trailing after corruption in Teamsters affairs.

The latest time was just last week when the investigators were centering on racketeering in the Detroit laundry industry and allied businesses.

Arab Group May Complain to UN

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian press reported today that the United Arab Republic is considering complaining to the United Nations that the United States and Britain are committing "indirect aggression" through anti-Nasser broadcasts from radio stations on Cyprus.

These broadcasts "seek to instigate chaos and overthrow the Nasser regime," the newspapers said.

This could be U. A. R. President Nasser's answer to President Eisenhower's charges that the U. A. R. repeatedly committed indirect aggression against Lebanon, Jordan and other Middle East and North African countries through subversion and inflammatory broadcasts from Egypt's "Voice of the Arabs" radio.

The killings continued elsewhere. A group standing at a bus stop in Nicosia was sprayed with automatic weapon fire. One Greek Cypriot was killed and another wounded.

Payment to Nat'l Guard Said Legal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The comptroller general today expressed the view that payment of federal funds to Arkansas National Guardsmen called into federal service during the Little Rock school crisis last year was legal.

He took this stand in a letter to Sen. John S. Stennis (D-Miss.), who promptly said he disagreed.

The Mississippi senator had asked Comptroller General Joseph P. Campbell to determine whether "a legal disbursement was made of funds appropriated for national defense."

Campbell, after reviewing steps taken by the President, said "we do not believe that the procedural steps followed in federalizing the Arkansas National Guard were improper; hence, in our opinion, expenditures of appropriated funds resulting from such federalization are legal, if otherwise properly incurred."

He pointed out, however, that "our office, of course, cannot pass judgment upon the question of whether the situation in Little Rock was such as to warrant the invoking by the President of his authority under the laws of the United States to federalize the National Guard."

"Hence, our decision concerning the legality of the expenditure of appropriated funds in connection with such federalization must revolve entirely around the procedural aspect."

Stennis, noting that Campbell had upheld the procedural steps followed by the President, said "I do not agree with his conclusions."

Deserter's Sentence Reduced to 6 Months

VERDUN, France (AP)—Brig. Gen. Robert J. Fleming Jr. today reduced to six months the sentence of Wayne Powers, wartime deserter who hid in his French girl friend's home for 14 years before being caught.

An Army court-martial last week sentenced Powers to 10 years imprisonment, after he pleaded guilty to desertion.

In addition, the 37-year-old Powers, a native of Chillicothe, Mo., was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances. Gen. Fleming approved this part of the sentence.

The case now goes to the judge advocate general for review.

Powers has said he hopes to be back soon with his girl friend, and their five children born during the long period of hiding. Powers will serve his sentence in Europe.

Matter of FACT
It is said by many scholars that Johann Gutenberg invented movable type and the printing press around the middle of the 15th century. However, the Chinese had probably used movable type before that. When printing appeared in Europe, people had a need and a use for it. In China, there was little need for printing and the art remained unknown for centuries.

Appeals Court

plan for gradual integration.
Paratroopers etc 3rd grad 10s...

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hearing on an appeal of an order delaying integration at Little Rock, Ark., Central High School for 2½ years began today in the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here.

The order was issued by U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley, followed a hearing in Little Rock at which the city school board maintained the community resistance to integration and resulting violence had made conditions intolerable in the school.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is appealing the order on grounds that Judge Lemley acted without constitutional authority in granting the delay.

The school board brief, to be filed today, contends that the U. S. Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation order did not exclude suspensions of integration plans.

The appeals court had dealt three times previously with cases growing out of the involved Little Rock integration litigation and all three times it has upheld the school board's limited integration plan.

No decision is expected today but the court will probably decide quickly whether Negro students will be allowed to enter Central again this fall.

Eight of the nine Negroes originally enrolled finished the 1957-58 term under protection of federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen. One, Ernest Green, was graduated. Seven were expected to return to Central prior to Lemley's order.

The NAACP claims there have been no concrete suggestions of what should be done to ease the situation during the 2½ year delay.

The NAACP also claims the Supreme Court has explicitly rejected consideration of community opposition to integration as being a basis for postponement. The brief said the appeals court has applied that idea in other phases of the Little Rock situation.

The Circuit Court first dealt with the Little Rock case last year and at that time approved the school board's plan of a time table calling for desegregation extending through elementary schools by 1963. That was the plan opposed by the NAACP as being too slow.

Next the appellate court upheld an injunction to keep segregationists from using a state court action to stop the plan.

The third ruling backed up an injunction barring Gov. Orval Faubus from using the Arkansas National Guard to prevent the Negroes from entering the school. At that time the court rejected appeals in two cases which challenged the use of federal troops to enforce desegregation.

It censured Faubus for his use of the guard, saying his actions could lead to a complete breakdown of government.

Last week Faubus was renominated in the Democratic primary in Arkansas which assured him of election. He interpreted the landslide victory as approval of his policies by the people of Arkansas.

The delay sought by the school board would stop integration until after the end of his third term.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A case which could have a direct bearing on the speed of racial integration in Southern public schools went to the seven judges of the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals today.

The case is an appeal challenging a 2½-year postponement of integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., where eight Negro students finished last term after a tense year of mixed attendance under a federal court-approved plan of gradual integration.

Paratroopers were sent to the school by President Eisenhower to maintain order.

The delay, sought by the Little Rock School Board, was granted by Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is appealing. The NAACP originally objected to the gradual plan on the grounds it was too slow but now is trying to salvage any sort of immediate integration at Central High and keep integration moving in the South.

The appeals court has dealt with the Little Rock situation three times, always ruling in favor of gradual integration.

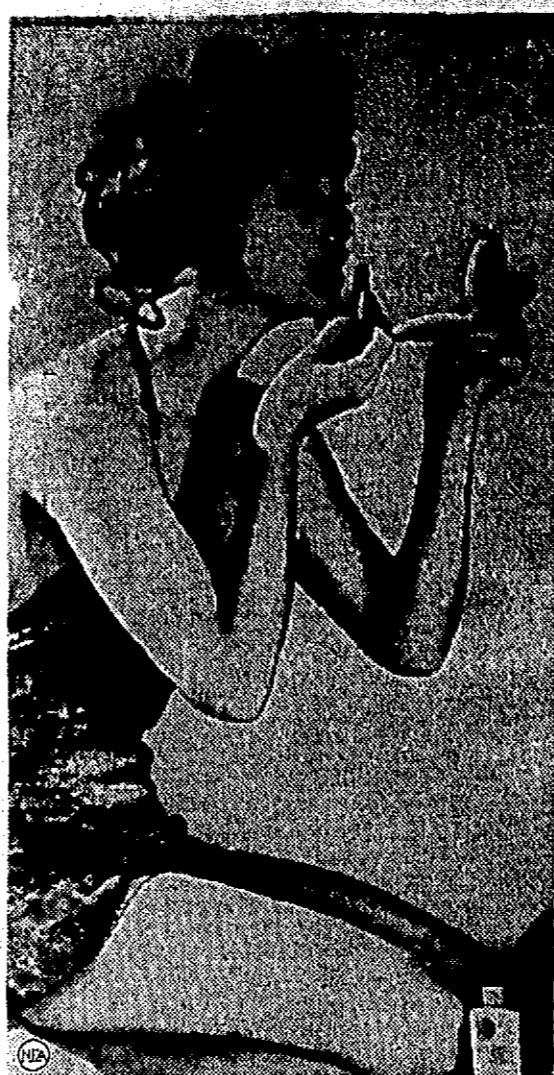

The school board holds that the appeals court must decide whether a school district is responsible for enforcing the district laws.

Its brief cites instances of violence which occurred at Central the past school year and declares that the board should not be forced to go ahead with integration under the "unsuperable" handicaps which have been thrust upon it.

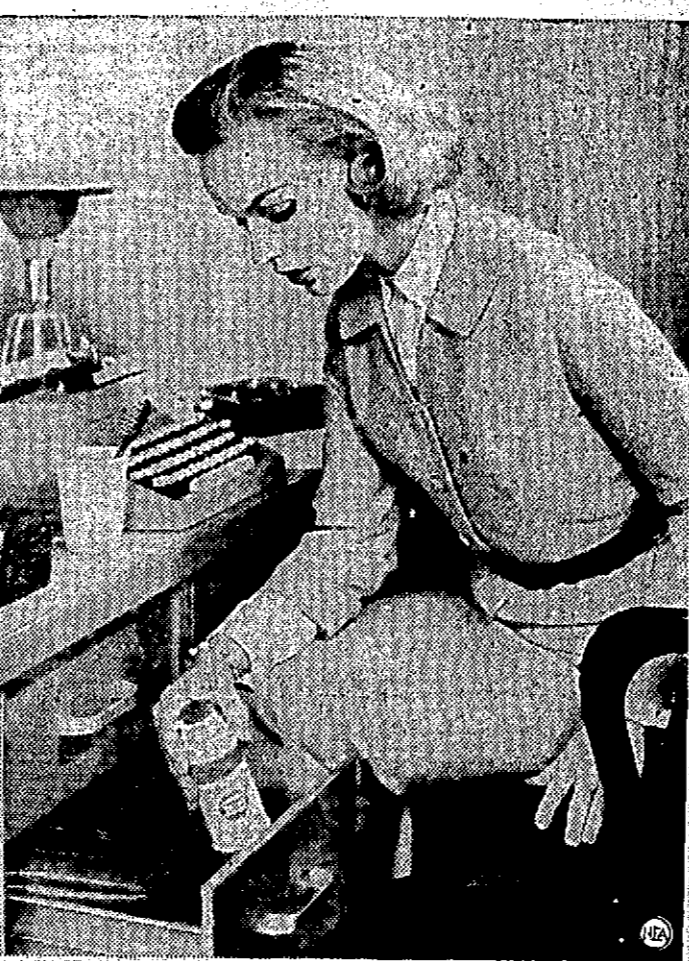

Attorneys for the school board said it is not trying to evade the just seeking an adjustment in its

Love Is Finished
— Just Like That

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last night my world came to an end. After we went to the movies my boy friend took me for some coffee and told me our friendship was at an end. He says he has tried to love me but can't, and that it absolutely is not my fault. I'm 22, pretty, a good cook and have a nice disposition, so I'm pretty sure I'm not to blame. He's a wonderful guy and I love him dearly. He's going away for a while and asked me to write him. Should I?

Babbie
Dear Babbie: You have now gone through the most heartbreaking experience that can befall a woman. To be told the man you love doesn't love you is a tragedy that nothing else in life will ever equal. You may have more troubles and worse problems, but they'll never affect you with quite the same stinging pain. The worst part of it is, there's absolutely nothing you can do about it. The only comfort I can give is that time will mend the wound and one day another man will come along to finish the healing process.

Don't write. Tell him you prefer to make a clean break as long as he considers the friendship ended. If he has made a mistake, let him find it out alone.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My sister and I are widows. We share a family house. I own it but carry a heavy mortgage. Her daughter works, her son works and attends school. Neither one gives her money, and she doesn't pay rent. She works, too. My children both work and contribute to the upkeep of the home. They want me to sell the house, make my sister go on her own as the situation is getting on their nerves.

In the Middle
Dear Lady: The situation calls for a complete appraisal of your sister's situation which, of course cannot give. Have a huddle with your youngsters, be fair about your sister's problems. If you feel she really cannot afford to be on her own and you can manage to keep her, be charitable. If, on the other hand, it appears that you are being "taken," unload the house.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have always been very generous about baby sitting for my brother and his wife. Yet, when my husband was out of work and we needed help, they never offered to assist us in any way. Now we're on our feet again and they have come back to request baby-sitting services. I don't feel like obliging after they treated us like obliging after they treated us. I know this will cause ill feelings but I can't help it. Am I right?

Olivia
Dear Olivia: No situation was ever helped by piling resentment upon resentment. No good was ever done by nursing ill feelings. You can't erase what's happened, your hostile attitude can do no good, so why not forget the past?

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I are having a little disagreement over food. He likes to eat every two weeks for the last night and must have meat every night and won't eat stew, soup or fish. He may consider a casserole about once in six months, but no more. He likes steak best. He also likes dessert and a snack before going to bed but won't let me use mixes. Cake, pie and cookies must be homemade. How can I save money with a husband like this? Or is the fault mine?

Margaret
Dear Margaret: Lady, if you can get a table to please your husband on this allowance, you don't need advice — you should be giving it. Many a housewife would like to see your budget. Carry on as you are and you can be real proud of yourself.

At last week's committee hearing, a woman laundry owner testified she had been threatened by a caller representing himself as "Hoffa of the Teamsters." If she appeared as a witness in the racketeering case.

Lehr denied any threats. Herman Kierdorf invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to say whether he was involved in threats to Mrs. Dawson.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A gun-toting cowboy surprised an outlaw trying to crack a safe at Fon King's laundry Sunday.

Now this cowboy was a cool hombre. He wasn't looking for trouble. He didn't even draw his gun. And when the safecracker offered him 10 cents to "keep quiet" he played along.

Parking Meter Issue to N. L. R. Voters

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The controversial parking meter question goes to North Little Rock voters tomorrow for a decision.

A light vote, less than 2,000, is predicted for the special election to decide if the city will install meters.

The city government is sponsoring the drive for meters which it says will provide needed street revenue.

Braves All But Knock Giants Out of a Chance

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Und so der Braves haben die Geschichten der Giants.

Freely translated, as any German-bred, jumpin' for joy Milwaukee burger will tell you, it means the San Francisco Giants have probably had it as a National League challenger.

By combining a six-game winning streak of their own with a six-game Giants losing streak, Milwaukee's champion Braves have opened up a five-game lead in the NL.

The 4-2 and 6-0 victory Sunday at County Stadium gave Milwaukee a four-game weekend sweep of the Giants.

The Giants now lead three after Pittsburgh by only two games after the Pirates' third successive shutout victory over the hapless St. Louis Cardinals, 2-0, in the first of two scheduled games at Pittsburgh. The Pirates led 2-0 in the fifth inning when the second game collided with Pennsylvania's 7 p.m. curfew.

Chicago and Philadelphia split, the Cubs outscoring the Phils 12-10 after the Phils had won the opener 8-2 behind Ray Semproch. Los Angeles and Cincinnati also split, enabling the Dodgers to vacate last place in favor of the Cards. Los Angeles won the first game, 8-6 in 10 innings, and dropped the nightcap 3-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan and Ray Moore pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 3-1, 4-0 sweep of New York, trimming the Yankees' lead to 15½ over second place Boston. The Red Sox whipped Cleveland 3-2 and 4-2 and Detroit won two from Baltimore, 3-2 and 4-1. Washington split with Kansas City, taking the second game 4-3 in 15 innings after the A's had romped home 12-0 in the opener.

Punch and pitching did it for the Braves against the Giants. Joe Adcock's two-run homer in the sixth and sacrifice fly in the eighth won the opener as Bob Trowbridge bagged his first victory with seven hits and nine runs to relief of starter Gene Conley.

Wes Covington and Frank Terry banged homers in the second game and the Braves coasted behind Warren Spahn's four-hitter for his 43rd career shutout. Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez were the losers.

Bob Friend won his 14th, tying Spahn for the NL high, for the bustling Pirates, who had blanked St. Louis 2-0 Friday and 1-0 Saturday. George Witt added five more blanks to the Cards' woeful streak before the curfew put off completion of the game until Sept. 16.

Bob Thurman's two-run homer in the seventh and veteran Alex Kellner's five-hit pitching enabled the Redlegs to salvage a split with Los Angeles. A walk and singles by Charlie Neal, Elmer Valo and Jim Gilliam in the 10th won the opener for the Dodgers, now in seventh place a half-game in front of St. Louis.

Yankees Have Trouble Winning Sunday Games

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

No need to break up the Yankees, friends. All ya gotta do is get them to skip the rest of the week and play on Sunday.

It's there in black and white, a 10-12 record with four doubleheaders. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours there; after the Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Rules Against Fertilizer Firms
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office ruled today it is within the state's police power to penalize commercial fertilizer companies whose products fail to contain within 10 percent of the amount of fertilizers they claimed.

The penalties were set up by the State Plant Board to protect Arkansas' many heavy users of fertilizers. The board's chief inspector, Paul Mullan, said, decided under a 1937 act to make fertilizer manufacturers pay three times the value involved in any case where three vital ingredients were found deficient.

Matter of FACT

When England entered the Crimean War in 1854, Florence Nightingale went to Scutari with 38 other nurses. They found conditions among the English soldiers unbelievably confused and squalid. She established order and cleanliness and within five months the death rate fell from about 40 per cent to about 2 per cent.

Her chemise of nylon jersey has a short fringed skirt falling from the dropped waistline. Unfortunately, Angela wasn't able to show off her outfit at the Wimbledon tennis tournament, being sidelined with a wrist injury.

Beruit Harbor Pilot Refuses a U. S. Ship

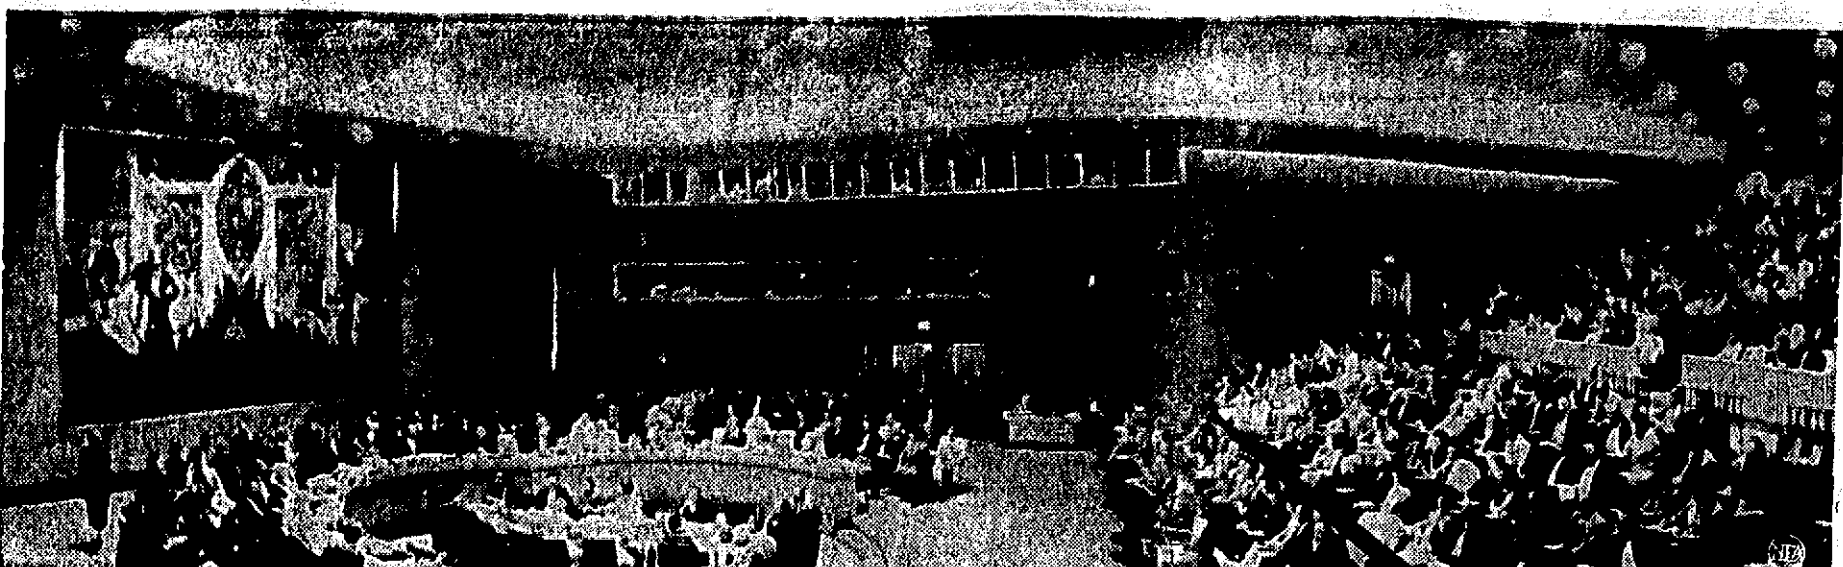

By RELMAN MORIN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Lebanese harbor pilot refused Sunday to bring a big U. S. cargo ship loaded with tanks into Beirut harbor.

"He said he didn't want anyone to see him doing the job," said Capt. Eiliv Norvik of Glen Cove, N.Y., skipper of the cargo ship Comet.

Norvik docked the ship himself and then took her back out of the harbor today after unloading some equipment for U. S. forces here. He did this despite international sea regulations which require native pilots to guide ships in and out of a harbor.

The Comet came here from Bremerhaven, Germany, with 72 medium and three light tanks of the 35th U. S. Tank Battalion.

Chapter VII

In programman a man to run the police lab. Everton has been just plain lucky. Dr. Murdock had been a nationally recognized criminologist before ill-health had forced him to give up his busy life.

He was an M.D., among many other things. In fact, someone had once said the only reason he didn't have a degree in archeology was that the people involved had been dead too long to interest him.

He was a man of considerable personal wealth and had come to Everton to live near his only daughter when he ostensibly retired. He soon found the boredom unbearable and had offered his services as an advisor and assistant, some six years ago. The work was intermittent, without the strain of his former job, and he seemed to thrive on it.

Morrison made his way down the steep stairs and through the partition that separated the laboratory. Dr. Murdock was bent over his microscope, with the over-present little envelope, each carefully marked, spread out in front of him.

"Find the shoe yet, Morrison?"

"Don't hurry me, Doc. I didn't think you would be ready to verify it, and I didn't want to embarrass you, so I've been taking my time."

Dr. Murdock snorted. "You've got more alibis than your suspects."

Morrison smiled easily. He, as much as anyone, appreciated the work done by this man.

"Good costs," he remarked. "The details came out nice and clear. What kind of man wore the shoes?"

"About five-ten or eleven. Not heavy — near fifty or sixty. He

"From all we can find out he was the original Mama's Nice Little Man."

"That's just it. No matter what the parents and the neighbors say, he must have had something they didn't know about, even if it was just something learned off the wall of the little boys' room at school. Judging from what they say, he was just too good to be true. His parents neglected him for his younger brother; he had no friends to speak of. All we need to do is find out his father's name and we would have a male Cinderella." Grimes said bitterly.

Morrison thought for a moment. "Maybe we'll have better luck with his teachers. Sometimes they know more about a kid than his family ever does."
